CLERICI TESSUTO

Company Profile

Clerici Tessuto is one of the most important textiles manufacturers in the world for the luxury sector, with ranges for men's and women's clothing, accessories and home furnishing.

Founded in 1922 by Rachele Clerici and her husband Alessandro Tessuto as a company for trading in silk fabrics, the company is now in its fourth generation, with the present Alessandro Tessuto as its CEO and his daughter Sara as communication manager. The old works has now been converted into an impressive 10,000 m² industrial complex that houses all the functions of the company and the entire manufacturing process, from creation to completion of high quality fabrics and accessories.

The company now owns a complete small scale textiles production chain: weaving and warping, dye works and printing, which employs more than 300 employees, covering the entire finishing cycle of silk and other natural fibers. The company manufactures, finishes, transforms and sells more than 2,500,000 meters of fabric per year, with a sales network that reaches 2,200 customers in 64 countries.

In 2017, the turnover of the overall group was around € 60 million. The largest share of total revenues came from women's clothing, followed by accessories and home furnishing.

Over the years, Clerici Tessuto group has successfully combined traditional craftsmanship and the excellence of Como silk, currently represented by the classic collection, chiné fabrics and cut voided velvet, with research and innovation in the yarns and weaving, warping and printing techniques, in order to respond to the requirements of an increasingly demanding market.
